WAY CLEAR FOR WEAK BEER TRIAL

"Intoxicating Beers" Alone Prohibited by War Prohibition Act Says U. S. Circuit Court—Prosecutor May Bring Criminal Actions.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
New York, June 27.—The United States circuit court of appeals gave its decision Thursday in the "2.75 per cent beer" case, upholding the contention of the brewers that the war prohibition act prohibited the brewing of intoxicating beers only, and not all beers, and denying the internal revenue collector's right to withhold stamps from such beer, but sided against the brewers on a third point, by denying that the right existed to enjoin United States District Attorney Caffer from starting criminal proceedings.

While holding that the district court was in error in granting an injunction against the federal district attorney, the majority decision, written by Judge Ward, said:

"We are sure that the United States district attorney will co-operate with the complainants to have the question involved determined speedily and in the meantime with as little interference as possible."

The decision clears the way for the trial on its merits of the question: Is beer containing not more than 2.75 per cent alcohol by weight intoxicating?

ELLENVILLE BENEFIT

Directed By Mrs. Cunningham Will Aid St. Mary's Church.

At the Masonic Theatre Ellenville, Monday afternoon and evening will be presented under the direction of Mrs. William D. Cunningham what promises to be a remarkably interesting and clever entertainment. The proceeds will be for the benefit of St. Mary's Church. The program will comprise in an unusually entrancing picture in five reels the celebrated child actresses, Jane and Kathryn Lee in the famous picture "Smiles." These juvenile artists, well known to Ellenville movie fans, alone would assure an enjoyable entertainment and a full house. In addition to the picture, however, Mrs. Cunningham has had under careful training for several weeks more than forty young people who will appear in various fancy dances, songs and choruses. The latter the very latest metropolitan hits: "Mrs. Cunningham will appear herself in two solo dances. The program, other than the picture follows:

One & two & three & four
Myrtle Bradford and chorus
Aesthetic solo
Kathryn Kirkland
Song, "I'll say she's" by six hand-some, dashing Ellenville youths.
Spanish Dance
Etienne M. Cunningham
Boogie, Doggie Man
Katherine Kirkland, Kathryn Eckert and chorus
I'm the Boy and I'm the Girl
Myrtle Bradford, Loreta Gillman and chorus
Mazurka Russe
Elizabeth Toney, Ida Bollin, Ragging the Alphabet
Beatrice Larkin and chorus
Where Can I Meet You Tonight?

Tickets, 25 cents, good for afternoon or evening. One show only in the evening.

WOLF'S FORD UPSET

And Thomas J. Had Narrow Escape From Serious Injury Thursday.

Thursday evening at Rosendale Thomas J. Wolf of No. 340 Broadway had a narrow escape from serious injury when his Ford car skidded and turned over, pinning him underneath. Wolf had driven a party to Rosendale and was driving down the sand hill to get some gasoline when his car began to slide and before he could stop it tipped over and rolled down the bank. Mr. Wolf was thrown from the car and escaped with bruises and a shaking up, but the car was damaged.

Back From Health Convention.

Health Officer Frank A. Johnston, Mrs. Mary O'Neil, public health nurse, Acting Sanitary Inspector Fred M. Drexler, and Mrs. Hattie Michael, a member of the health board, have returned from the state health convention held at Saratoga Springs. Among those from Kingston and Ulster county at the convention in addition to the city health officials were Miss Elizabeth M. Brown, the county tuberculosis nurse, Miss Lydia Gappe, the city tuberculosis nurse, Mrs. Alice Stelle and Van Wageningen of Kingston, Dr. Paul Kerkhouson, Dr. Krom of Saugerties, Dr. Blakeslee of Highland, Dr. Neal of Ellenville and Dr. Chemlin of Fleischmans.

Sailor Dies in Collision.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
New York, June 27.—The American schooner Friendship, enroute to this port from Buenos Aires with a cargo of oil, was run down and badly damaged sixty miles off New York early today by the Japanese steamer Tsuruga Maru. The Friendship made New York harbor, backing over her bowsprit, and was struck off. A Finnish sailor, who was at the wheel, was carried overboard.

GOTELLI GOT AROUND STRIKE

Wall Street Produce Man Trucked Tons of Produce From Newark—Strikers Go Back to Work.

Unable to get goods in New York for his customers owing to the strike of the truck drivers, George Gotelli, who owns a fruit and vegetable store at 333 Wall street, got busy. He went to Newark, N. J., on Wednesday, where there is a big market place, with his large auto truck and started in Thursday to buy goods. Before he finished, which did not take him long, he had not only his truck loaded with barrels of potatoes, bananas, baskets of beans, cucumbers, musk melons and other garden truck, but also loaded a ten-ton truck which he engaged at Newark and had it loaded with goods. The trucks arrived in Kingston late Thursday afternoon, and Mr. Gotelli was able to help out local merchants whom he supplies with potatoes, etc., also summer boarding house keepers in the vicinity. Local market gardeners are able to supply peas, cabbage, lettuce and a few beans, but no potatoes, and the strike had almost caused a famine in the new potato line.

Men Resume Work.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, June 27.—Following a conference of several hours in the rooms of the Boosters' Club, 173 Franklin street, Thursday night between produce merchants and representatives of the teamsters, chauffeurs and porters employed by them, who have been on strike since Monday morning, an announcement was made by both sides that a satisfactory agreement had been reached and the men would return to work this morning. The meeting was attended by Joseph B. Buchanan, United States commissioner of conciliation, sent from Washington to help effect a settlement of the strike, which rapidly was bringing a food crisis to this city.

FOREST FIRES

Fewer Will Occur If Those In Woods are Careful.

With the season for camping and picnics now in full swing, attention needs to be called to the danger of starting forest fires as a result of the carelessness of picnickers.

It is not only the person who leaves the campfire without having made sure it is extinguished who may cause serious damage, but also the smoker who carelessly tosses away a match which he supposes has gone out. The only safe way is to break the match in two before it is cast aside. If there is still any fire in it, the sensation of touch will give the smoker emphatic warning. A cigar butt or cigarette, or even the contents of a pipe dumped out on the ground, is also a source of danger.

In choosing a place for the camp fire one should locate it as far from inflammable material as possible, and not make a bigger fire than needs require. When camp is broken, it goes without saying that the fire should be put out with water, and to make absolutely sure that no sparks are left, it is well to throw earth over it, say the foresters at the state college at Ithaca, N. Y.

PRESENTED WITH PURSE

Rev. Connelly, Leaving For Newburgh, Is Given Testimonial.

The Rev. Stephen P. Connelly, assistant rector at St. Mary's church who has been assigned to a church in Newburgh, was tendered an informal farewell at the home of James F. Dwyer on Broadway Thursday evening, and presented with a purse.

The affair was a complete surprise to Father Connelly, who leaves this week for Newburgh, and who had been asked to call at the home of Mr. Dwyer to meet a few friends. He was greeted by Mr. Dwyer and Richard O'Sullivan, who made the presentation in behalf of the members of St. Mary's parish. Other members of the committee present were John Kearney, Robert Dwyer, Bernard Donovan, William Huser, Edward Abernethy, William F. Rafferty and Dr. John F. Larkin.

Father Connelly has been assistant rector at the church for the past nine years under the Rev. Dean John J. Hickey, and has made a host of friends, not only among the members of the parish, but the city at large. The Newburgh church to which he has been assigned is St. Patrick's Church. He carries with him the best wishes of all.

Rumor Has Frederick Hiding.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Paris, June 27.—A rumor was in circulation here today that the German Crown Prince has not actually fled from Holland but is still in hiding in some part of the country. It is said that possibly he conferred at the German frontier with chiefs of the German military movement. A group against the Bauer government is feared.

Spartan After American Food.

London, June 27.—It is believed here that the Spartacist mob which has taken possession of Hamburg will attempt to capture the supplies aboard American foodships which recently arrived there. The American vessels are armed and should be able to repel the attempt.

KNIFE WORKS AT NAPANOCH SOLD

Negotiations for the sale of the Napanoch Knife Company to the Winchester Repeating Arms Company of New Haven, Conn., have been consummated and the plant and personnel of the Napanoch Company will be transferred to New Haven in the immediate future.

William Carman will join the engineering staff of the Winchester company where a much broader field will be afforded him for the exercise of his wide experience and technical knowledge of the manufacture of cutlery.

The purchase of the Napanoch Knife Company adds a product to the Winchester line fully equal in quality to the high grade guns and ammunition manufactured by this firm.

The loss of this factory will be sorely felt by Napanoch and vicinity.

The Napanoch Knife Works was started nearly nineteen years ago by W. L. Hoonbeek and the Carman Brothers. It has been giving employment to from forty to seventy people.

TRIBUTE TO DIRECTOR.

Mrs. Bennett of Phoenicia Receives Gift From Choir.

On Monday evening last our junior choir held their final rehearsal for the summer season. At the conclusion of the rehearsal all present were invited to the parsonage for a social hour and refreshments.

At this gathering the choir presented their director, Mrs. Nellie E. Bennett of Phoenicia with a fine ebony baton with three silver ferrules upon which Mrs. Bennett's name and the date of this happy occasion are to be engraved. The juniors accompanied their gift with an autograph statement of their affection for their director and of their high appreciation of her skillful service and personal interest in them as individuals and as an organization. Mrs. Bennett has been the director of this live body since their organization in October, 1918. Some new members are being added and rehearsals will be resumed in September next. It will be gratifying to our friends to know that Mrs. Bennett has consented to continue her services in the fall.—Tannersville Times-Record.

TRADE COMMITTEE MET.

Chamber of Commerce Matters Gone Over.

The retail trade committee of the Chamber of Commerce met at the headquarters rooms Thursday evening and discussed three questions. Chairman Stelle was authorized to name a committee to get out a folder presenting attractive facts about the city calculated to be of use and information for out of town people.

The committee then went over the matter of mapping out a definite program of work for itself in the future. Another trade event was decided upon to be held the first part of August and a sub-committee will be named to develop definite plans.

Illustrated Lecture at Katrine.

There will be given at the Grange Hall at Katrine next Monday evening, June 30th, one of Dr. Putnam Cady's interesting and delightful illustrated lectures on "The Mediterranean Sea and the Coast of Italy." This lecture will be given for the benefit of the Katrine Sunday school, and those who failed to see and hear this most interesting lecture when given by Dr. Cady in Kingston, will now have the added pleasure of the evening's ride to Katrine, which is so delightful at this season of the year. The lecture will be given at 8:30 o'clock, which will permit Kingstonians to have ample time to reach Katrine Grange Hall after the evening meal. Following the lecture ice cream and cake will be served.

Law Bars Carp From Public Waters.

Relative to the appeal of the Ulster County Fish and Game Association, to keep carp out of the Ashokan reservoir, Game Protector Fred De Witt called attention today to section 250 of the conservation law, which states: "No person shall put or place in any of the public waters of the state, fish commonly known as carp, nor shall any person put or place the spawn of such fish or use such fish as bait in the water thereof." The purpose of this section is to protect other fish that inhabit such waters. By keeping carp out of these waters, the sport is kept up to the standard.

Money's Missing Cow Found.

The disappearance of the $125 Holstein cow belonging to M. Mones of Kingston, who had turned it over to a soldier in Lusk, was cleared up Thursday when the animal was found in a field, a short distance from where it had been entrusted to the soldier. The soldier had pocketed the dollar given him to lead the cow to the Rhinebeck ferry and then placed the cow in a field.

LITTLE MUSICIANS.

Seven-Year-Old Mauterstock Pupils Show Talent at Recital.

One of the most enjoyable recitals given this season was the one on Wednesday evening at the Trinity M. E. Chapel by the pupils of Miss Ethel Mauterstock.

The large lecture room was artistically decorated with daisies and roses and presented a charming appearance.

"The best recital ever given by Miss Mauterstock's pupils," was the comment heard on all sides, and Miss Mauterstock is to be congratulated for the excellent preparations which the students had received. Both expression and technique were noticeable in all of the numbers. The piano solos were given from memory.

The program opened with a "Waltz" by E. Bachman, played by Sophie Arnet and Miss Mauterstock. This little miss, although but seven years old, showed remarkably ability and rendered her selection in a rapturous manner.

Evelyn Beadle followed with "Merry and Gay" by Orle and "A Dream" by Biedermann. Both numbers were well executed with a clear touch and good rhythm.

A pantomime, "Nancy Lee," was then given by Miriam Cassler in Scotch costume and was exceedingly well rendered and enjoyed.

Janet Thompson played with Miss Mauterstock the "Boat Song" by Smith. This difficult little number showed careful preparation and musical ability on the part of the pupil.

Evelyn Day then played "The First Robin" by Rogers and "Lily" Polka by Schmitt. These numbers deserve special mention for the musicianly way in which they were rendered for this young lady has taken lessons but a short time.

All present enjoyed the soprano solos by Laura Bailey, "My Shadow" by Hadley and "Cobwebs" by Smith. Miss Bailey has an exceedingly sweet clear voice and gave both numbers in a simple, unassuming manner. Her phrasing and enunciation were excellent.

Diana Novig played in a graceful manner a "Springtime Waltz" by Tomlinson.

Clarence Hearn and Miss Mauterstock gave a duet, "Sailor Song," by Orth, a delightful little number given an artistic finish.

A "Barcarole" "On the Sea" by Harkly pleased the audience as given by Sadie Novig.

Rose Dougherty then played "Peit Tarantelle" by Smith and "Gypsies" by Smith. Much progress was noted in her playing since the last recital. Both numbers were finely given.

A reading, "The Bear Story" by Riley, was given by Joseph Block. Master Joseph is but seven years old but never has this humorous number by James Whitcomb Riley been rendered more true to life. The program was well received and the audience showed the appreciation of the audience.

"The Merry Wanderer" by Heins, played by Clarence Hearn followed. "One of the best numbers on the program," was the comment after this young man finished.

A very enjoyable number and one well rendered was the duet, "May Queen" by Ethel Douglas and Miss Mauterstock.

The beautiful "Nocturne" by Bendil, was given a splendid interpretation by Joseph and Miss Mauterstock. The lovely tone effect was noted throughout the entire piece.

The pantomime, "Yankee Doodle," by Joseph Block followed. Again Joseph delighted his audience with his number given in his imitable way.

"Rustle of Spring" by Sinding, was played by Elmer Douglas. Seldom has this number been given such a musicianly rendering as was heard at this time. Mr. Douglas is to be congratulated for his undoubted talent.

The program closed with a duet, "Zampa-Overture," by Herold, played by Laura Bailey and Miss Mauterstock. A beautiful number it was, fully given.

Announcement was made at the conclusion of the program that the second recital would be given on Wednesday evening, July 2, to which the parents and those interested would be welcomed.

Mrs. Kimble in Ellenville Recital.

Mrs. Edward R. Kimble, contralto soloist of the Wurtz Street Baptist Church of this city, gave a delightful recital at the Mount Memorial building in Ellenville, under the auspices of the Ellenville Musical Club, on Thursday evening, June 27th. Emily F. Keenan of this city presided at the piano.

GERMAN SIGNERS OFF TO PARIS

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Berlin, June 27.—"I leave with a bleeding heart," declared Foreign Minister Hermann Mueller as he boarded a train at Potsdamer station last night, enroute to Versailles, where will head the German delegation that will sign the peace treaty. He added that he considered himself the "medium of a great sacrifice."

Herr Mueller was joined at Essen this morning by Dr. Bell, another member of the cabinet who is going to Versailles to sign the treaty. They are due to arrive in the old French capital early Saturday morning.

Herr Mueller said the German delegation would discuss enroute to Versailles the question of whether they would participate in any peace celebration in Germany after the signing of the treaty.

PYTHIANS TO HAVE BIG NIGHT

Celebrated Degree Team of 100 To Confer Page Rank Here—300 Ex-Pected From Nearly Score of Other Places.

Everything is in readiness for the large Pythian gathering at Franklin Lodge on Saturday night. Schenectady Pythians are coming with their celebrated team of one hundred Knights to confer the rank of page on a class of candidates. They will journey down by automobiles and will be met beyond the city lines on the Saugerties road by a reception committee of twenty-five members of Franklin Lodge. After touring about the city they will be escorted to the new parking place next to Pythian Hall on John street, which will be finished and lighted and ready for use. A "supper" will be given them at the Kingston Hotel.

As Franklin Lodge meets on Monday evenings, this is a special convention for which a dispensation has been issued. The lodge will open at 8 o'clock and the conferring of the rank will commence about eight-thirty. No one will be admitted to the lodge room during the conferring of the rank.

Major Butts and a large delegation of Knights from Poughkeepsie are coming up by special boat. Delegations are coming from Schenectady, Newburgh, Middletown, Cornwall, Saugerties, Beacon, Ellenville, Marlborough, Walkill, Highland, Pine Bush, Highland Falls, Tannersville, Kerhonkson, Allgerville, Port Ewen and Hudson. It is expected that over three hundred visiting Knights will be present.

After the ritualistic work is finished, refreshments will be served, and addresses will be delivered by grand lodge officers. Major Butts of Poughkeepsie and some of the other visiting Knights.

Major Canfield, who is grand prelate of the Knights in the state, is chairman of the local committee, and reports that it will probably be the greatest Pythian convention ever held in this city. The Schenectady Knights have more than a state-wide reputation for the conferring of the rank and have spent much time and money in perfecting and amplifying their work. It will be a gala night for Pythians in Kingston.

TO HEAR CHARGE AGAINST CURTIS

Following preliminary discussion of the case, Governor Smith today stated that in the near future he would appoint a commissioner to determine the charges preferred by Frank J. Collier, former village president of Coxsack, against District Attorney Harris McK. Curtis of Greene county. The commissioner will sit in Greene county, the governor said.

The charges are that Curtis has been inefficient, incompetent and has failed to properly present cases to the grand jury. The answer of Mr. Curtis is a general denial. He states in his brief that he was not summoned before Governor Whitman and reprimanded, and asks that the charges be dismissed.

Union Sunday School Picnic.

The three downtown Sunday schools, Baptist, Methodist and Presbyterian, are planning for a union picnic to be held at Forest Park on Wednesday, July 3rd. Committees representing these various churches are already working to make the affair a great success. Forest Park is a fine shady spot, an ideal place to spend the day with the children. The boys are talking baseball and other athletic stunts will be a part of the afternoon program.

McNelis Secures Contracts.

WILSON SURE OF RATIFICATION

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Paris, June 27.—President Wilson has the utmost confidence that the United States senate will ratify the peace treaty shortly after it is presented in its final form.

The president plans to sail immediately after the signing, probably Sunday noon, landing in New York a week later. It is expected that he will request a joint session of the senate and house on Monday, when he will address the members and at the same time deliver the treaty to the senate committee on foreign relations.

Immediately after his address, the president will commence a country wide tour presenting the facts to the people.

American peace delegates are convinced that the ex-sailer will never be brought to trial.

TREATY TO BE SIGNED TOMORROW

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Paris, June 27.—President Wilson this afternoon held a final conference with the American newspaper correspondents and told them he expected the signing of the treaty would be completed tomorrow afternoon, in time for him to leave Paris tomorrow night, sailing from Brest on Sunday.

KINGSTON, N. Y.

FOUR FAMOUS OLD TIME BOATS

The Steamer Mary Powell, the Queen of the Hudson, the Norwich, the Ice King, and the Steamer M. Martin and the Oswego Berthed Here For Summer.

With their days of usefulness fast drawing to a close four of the most famous river steamers in the world are peacefully spending the summer berthed in the Rondout creek, with the chances all against their being placed in commission this season. They have been succeeded by larger and faster, and more modern boats, but in the hey-day of their career the four old steamers were in the first rank.

Probably the most famous of the four old boats is the Steamer Mary Powell, the old Queen of the Hudson, which is berthed at the Sunflower dock in the creek. In these days her former glory is but a fading memory, and she is used as an extra boat by the Hudson River Day Line. Without question the old Queen of the Hudson is one of the most famous passenger boats in the world, and upon her decks have trod the most famous men and women of the past half century.

Another steamer that is famous in the annals of Hudson river history is the Steamer Milton Martin, of the Central-Hudson Steamboat Company. For years she was on the Newburgh-Albany route and was one of the first boats out in the spring and the last to leave the service in the winter. She was General Grant's dispatch boat on the Chesapeake during Civil war and did much service, carrying messages and troops across the river and bay. She was built in 1863, being completed shortly after the war broke out, and was immediately pressed into service under General Grant.

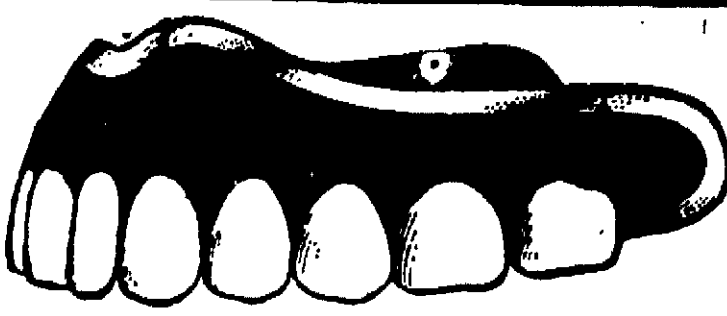

In her day, that is, during the Civil war, the Martin was the greyhound of the inland steamers doing service in the war. Like the old Queen of the Hudson, she is a side-wheeler and has a wooden bottom. She was regarded as an ice-breaker for no matter how heavy the ice she was able to plow through until the word came to lay her up for the winter.

Turning from passenger steamers to tow boats, the old Norwich, known as the Ice King, and the Oswego, both of the Cornell Steamboat Company, are the most famous in the history of the river. Both are side-wheeler and of wooden construction.

The Norwich was built in 1837, while the Oswego was built in 1844. The Norwich was long noted for the staunchness of her hull and for years was used in keeping open a channel in the lower Hudson when the ice threatened to close it before the tows were gotten through. She plowed through where steel-hulled vessels failed.

In the memorable floods of 1902 and 1904 when the ice gorges formed at Coeymans it was the old Norwich which was pressed into service to "back" and break the gorges, and she succeeded.

The Oswego, while not as famous as the Norwich, was long in active service towing on the Hudson. Both the Oswego and the Norwich are kept in good condition, and it would require but a short time to place them in commission if necessary.

"DIRECT" BITE TEETH

After years of experimenting our laboratories have discovered a direct bite set of artificial teeth. These plates improve the sense of taste and insure perfect enunciation and articulation. The teeth absolutely cannot be discerned from natural teeth. These teeth because of the direct bite have three times the biting strength of ordinary plates. Are you now wearing artificial teeth? If so, we strongly advise you to call and investigate this new plate.

Jutland's Wealth in Peat.

The utilization of the largest peat areas in the north part of Jutland is receiving much attention. The area is said to be as much as 28,000 acres, which might be completely drained by gravitation, and the total contents would be equivalent to 23,000,000 tons of coal.

Have Strong Hold on Life.

Even earth worms are among the creatures that can lie dormant in a dried-up state. Peter Schmidt reports that when desiccated to 40 per cent of their normal weight, shrinking to a half or a third of natural length and volume, they may be restored to active life after 30 hours in summer or 48 hours or more in the cold.

THIS is a new-fashioned world, but Murads are the "old-fashioned" tasting Turkish cigarette. 100% pure Turkish tobacco makes them taste that way. That's why thousands and thousands of men demand them.

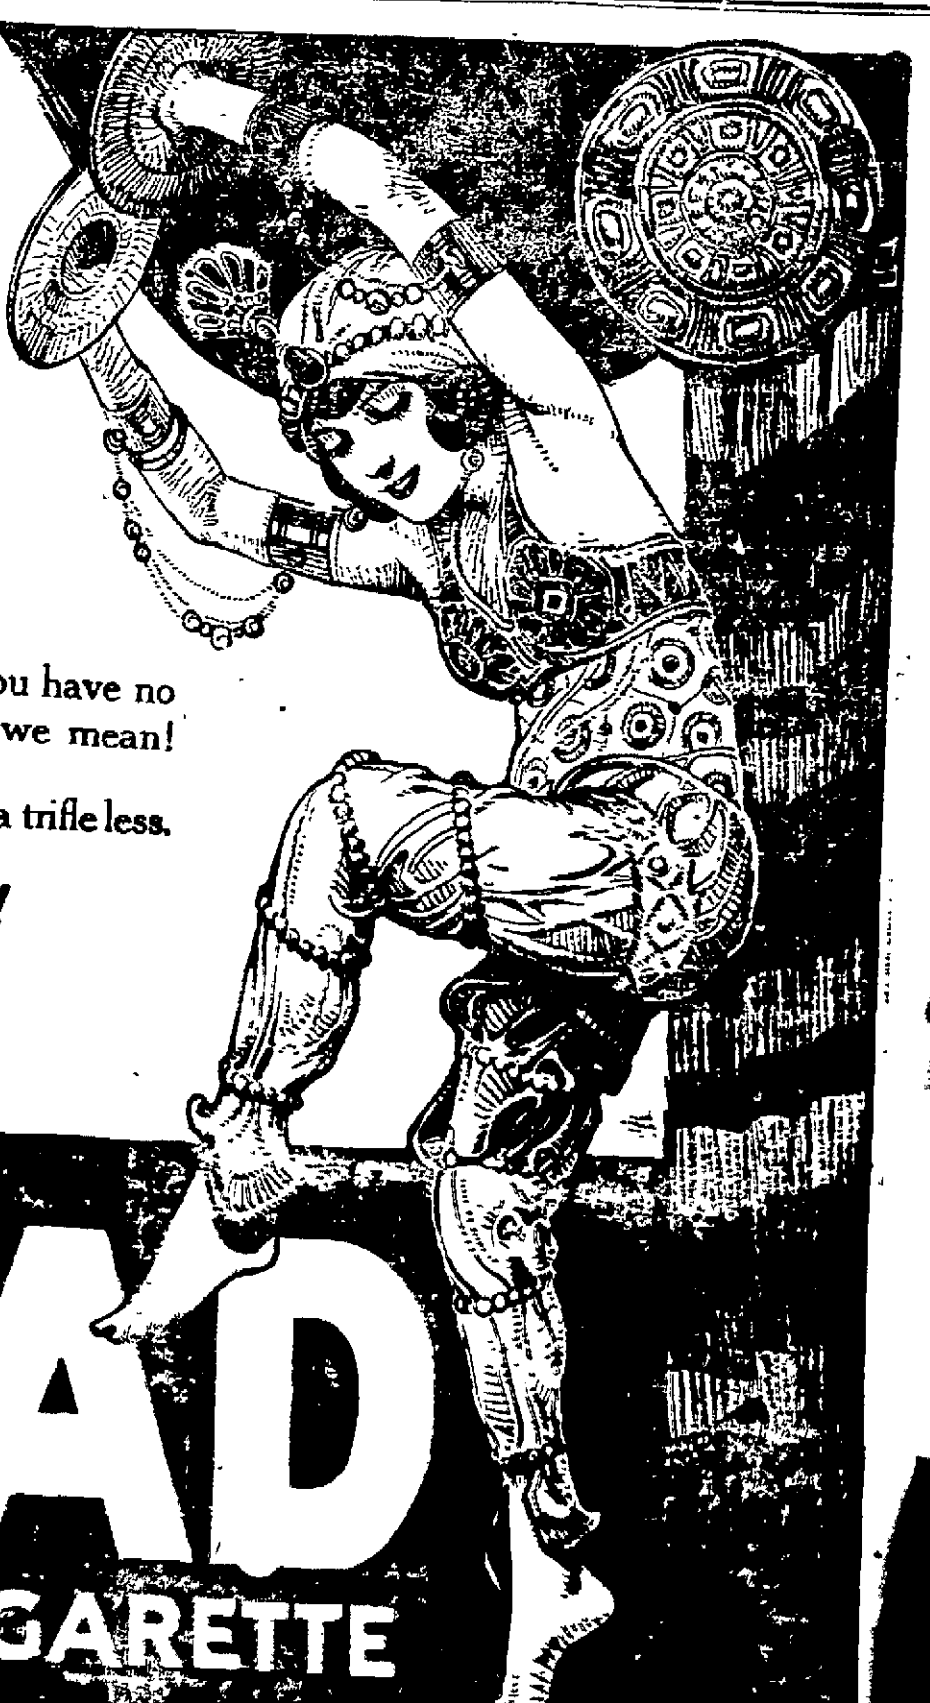

They gratify your pride and satisfy your taste—and when you take them out of your pocket in any company you have no apologies to make. You know what we mean!

It is true that "ordinary" cigarettes cost a trifle less.

MANY ATTEND ALUMNI REUNION

Alfred Schmid Re-elected President
—Dancing and Vaudeville Enjoyed—Resolutions on Death of Misses McCordie, Safford and Myer.

There was a large attendance of the recent members of the Kingston High School Alumni with a sparse sprinkling of the K. A. and U. A. members of the organization—now honorary members—at the High School gymnasium Thursday evening, and the reunion was a very pleasant one.

The gymnasium was charmingly decorated—and that overworked word is used advisedly—for from the ceiling of the main floor and gallery there hung tiny white streamers in "profusion, with pink rose buds caught at intervals, giving a fairy-like appearance to the scene.

The large electric lights were shaded with pink, in the form of huge roses, and in the center of the gym a booth, having the same sort of decorations had been erected for the musicians.

After foregathering in the gym, the assembly was asked to adjourn to one of the other rooms for the business session, Alfred Schmid, president, presiding.

Mr. Schmid, in a few cordial words welcomed his fellow alumni and expressed his gratitude that the attendance was so large. After telling of the formal organization of the Alumni Association last December, at which time the officers chosen were Alfred Schmid, 16, president; Miss Ruth A. Humphrey, 16, vice-president; Miss Alice M. Reilly, 17, secretary and Miss Rose Bergen, 17, treasurer, with an executive committee composed of George W. Greene, 16; Edward T. Stelle, 17; Wilson LeFevre, 16; Olga V. S. Owens, 18; and Harry Connelly, 18, as members of a memorial fund for the purpose of erecting in the Kingston high school bronze tablet in memory of the Kingston high school men, Ulysses G. French, 16, U. S. N.; Aubrey D. Arnt, 17, U. S. A.; John A. Joyce, 17, U. S. A.; Leonard E. Woodrow, 21, U. S. A.; and Geoffrey Strugnell, 16, U. S. A. A sufficient amount has been raised for the purchase and erection of the tablet, and it had been the hope of the association, said President Schmid, to have the tablet placed and unveiled this week. They had, however, received word that it would be impossible to have the tablet ready at this time, so that it was planned to have it unveiled early in the fall.

The report of the secretary, Miss Reilly, was then given and accepted as given, as was the treasurer's report given by Miss Bergen.

In further commenting upon the tablet unveiling, Mr. Schmid said it was the plan of the association to have an officer of the 27th Division act as the chief spokesman, and deliver an address at that time, directly following the opening of the school year.

Perhaps the feature of last evening's meeting which will last longest in the history of the association, will be the resolutions upon the death of Miss Helen M. McCordie, 16; Miss Faith Safford, 17; and Miss Eloise M. Myer, former president of the Alumni of Kingston Academy. Resolutions as offered and adopted with a rising vote, were as follows:

Miss McCordie.
The Kingston High School Alumni Association finds it a sorrowing task to record the first death of its membership—that apostle of quietness, that disciple of sincerity, Helen M. McCordie, 16. Patient and courageous, vigorous in all she undertook, and peculiarly ambitious we know that we have seen a friend and associate go whom we could ill bear to lose.

With a passionate devotion to her every task and with a bitter enemy to gossip, she fought a fight that few of us ever realized was being staged and all the time there was the self-same smile and cheerfulness. Such women are rare; such courage and grit to "grin and bear" unusual. No one will gainsay that all of us will be no better for the fight she made and the heroic perseverance she demonstrated to the very end. It seems so refreshing to have had her with us if only for a score of years. We feel sure that we will stand out as her debtors as the years roll on.

We would have her people know that we deeply regret our loss; we would have them feel that we can never quite forget this classmate, this schoolmate who stepped out in the vanguard of these companions of ours when Unseen Powers have beckoned up the "Long, Long Trail."

George E. Lowe, R. A.,
Architect
KINGSTON, NEW YORK.
In Kingston by Appointment.
Address,
168 Herkimer St.
Brooklyn, N. Y.

Resolved, that the Kingston High School Alumni Association hereby spreads upon its minutes the expression of profound sorrow at the loss of this dear friend, and that, as a mark of further respect that when this annual session adjourns, it do so out of love for the memory of Helen M. McCordie, '16.

Miss Safford.
Welding into one endearing personality the rare qualities of aristocrat of education and training with an all-pervading democracy of both thought and action; uniting a charitableableness that made the firmest of friends where others found only enemies; with an intensified thoughtfulness for everyone she came in contact with, Faith Safford stands out preeminently as the most lovable, the most generous, the noblest soul that ever abided in this, our Alma Mater.

In her death Kingston High School and its Alumni Association has lost a beloved leader and a wise counselor, a loyal friend and a supremely interested adherent and alumnus. Never was there a moment but that she found time to advance the fortunes of those colors she loved most dearly. Unassuming, indulgent and with an enduring sweetness that we loved in her, she loomed up to every one of us as a woman among women. No one can feel the loss greater than we who are gathered here tonight.

The business of a hurly-burly world summons us all too quickly from the grief that envelops us and to our dear friend's kindred our sincerest sympathy and heartfelt sorrow is tendered most reverently.

Resolved, that when this annual session of the Kingston High School Alumni Association adjourns, it do so out of profound respect and love for the memory of Faith Safford, '17.

Miss Myer.
We, who gather here tonight cannot fail to find a vacant seat and a voice that is no more. In other years, to her very death, Eloise Arriett Myer was the one central, outstanding figure where alumni associations gathered and it seems cold and strange that we must now in humble submission to a benign Providence and recognize that she has gone into the mysterious beyond.

Personifying an energy that was boundless, a loyalty that was supreme and a thoughtfulness that we can never forget, we say in utmost sincerity that we miss her kindly smile and helping hand.

With the news we declare that the pity of her death is that she went out playing the Good Samaritan. Life, to her was not a thing to husband and hoard and sit out miserly. She seemed to portray more than anyone we can recall that it is one's to spend and we have it only as we spend it. A simple, stoical philosophy, but it has its own splendor and magnificence and we can never forget her.

Resolved, that the K. H. S. Alumni Association hereby spreads upon its minutes the expression of profound sorrow at the loss of this true alumnus, and that, as a mark of further respect that when this annual session adjourns, it do so out of respect and a deepened love for the memory of Eloise M. Myer, late president of the K. A. Alumni Association.

Following the adoption of the resolutions, the election of officers for the ensuing year took place. According to the constitution adopted last December, the officers must be chosen from members of the association living in the city, and as a result the following were unanimously elected: President, Alfred Schmid; vice president, Miss Ruth Humphrey; Miss Gladys Cashin, secretary; Miss Rose Bergen, treasurer; George Greene, Edward T. Stelle, William I. Winston, Miss Alice O'Reilly and Miss Olga Owens, members of the executive committee. The business session then adjourned.

The young people then hastened back to the gymnasium, where to the inspiring music of Muller's orchestra dancing was greatly enjoyed. The picture as viewed from the balcony was a particularly pleasing one, as the young folks danced gracefully under the soft lights with the pretty overhead decorations. During the evening a vaudeville sketch was cleverly given by Charles Beeres, Samuel Weisman, Amasa Smith, Walter Foster, James Winters, Chris. Bessinger, Robert Maroney, John Bort, and Wilson Norwood, after which refreshments were served and dancing was resumed for a time, the gathering disbanding before midnight. All present expressed the hope that the next year's meeting might be even more largely attended and as good, or if possible an even better time, enjoyed.

AMERICA'S IMMORTALS

GEORGE DILBOY,
Private, Company H, 103rd
Infantry.

Private Dilboey was the distinguished service cross for conspicuous gallantry near Belleau, France, July 18, 1918. He died from wounds received at that time. After his platoon had gained its objective along a railroad embankment, Private Dilboey, accompanying his platoon leader to reconnoiter the ground beyond, was suddenly fired upon by an enemy machine gun from one hundred yards. From a standing position on the railroad track, fully exposed to view, he opened fire at once, but failing to silence the gun, rushed forward with his bayonet fixed, through a wheat field toward the gun emplacement, falling within twenty-five yards of the gun with his right leg nearly severed above the knee, and with several bullet holes in his body, with undaunted courage, he continued to fire into the emplacement from a prone position, killing two of the enemy and dispersing the rest of the crew. Private Dilboey's home was in Boston, Mass.

WILLARD'S GOOD HUMOR HOLDS UP

Laughs With The Gang At All The Jokes—Dempsey Don't Worry Either But Is on Edge For Bell To King—"Great Fight" Says Moran.

(By Tad.)

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Toledo, O., June 27.—Jess Willard is standing the strain of camp routine wonderfully well.

The strain on the champion in training is an awful thing. We have had any number of them crack under it.

Jim Corbett wasn't fit to live with before his fight with Fitzsimmons at Carson City. Everything was wrong, and everyone was a pest. Jim Jeffries at Reno, before his fight with Johnson, busted like a gold fish bowl. Two days before the fight, he was playing cards. Instead of following suit when spades were led poor Jim tossed out hearts and diamonds without even a thought. His mind was on Johnson and nothing else.

Willard is around the Hotel Secor here every morning smiling and kidding as though there was nothing on his mind but dinner time. Of course, this may be bunk, but he doesn't show that it is. He meets strangers, and lets the mob admire him without shirk.

At his camp he is full of good nature too. Maybe the big idea hasn't hit him yet. He appears like a fellow who will be glad when the fourth of July is over because he has something else to do.

He is not crabby with anyone. He doesn't appear fidgety nor does he appear nervous. A good natured giant who laughs with the gang at all the jokes.

A fight never did bother Dempsey much. He is just a kid. He is very anxious. Anyone can see that he would like to fight tonight if it could be arranged.

He is the bull calf in the box car. He wants to get out on the green and tear up. They have to hold him down in his work.

Almost every day he begs to box some more, but wiser heads hold him back. He hasn't enough to do. He would like to box until he falls from exhaustion. He is a boiler without a safety valve. He has steam up all the time and is dying to bust. There is no worry in his system. Probably the hardest part of July 4th to him would be sitting in his corner waiting for the gong.

Frank Moran and Jess Willard met on the street today for the first time since their title tete-a-tete in Madison Square Garden some years ago.

"You are looking fine, Jess," piped Frank, grabbing the big right mauler of the cowpuncher. "You don't look quite so big when you are dressed."

"I'm feeling fine—better than I ever felt before in my life," laughed Willard, slapping the Pittsburgher on the shoulder. "I'm just doing enough work to keep me in the pink. The weather bothered me at first, but I'm sucking in this fresh Toledo air like a new chimney."

Later in the afternoon Moran went out to visit Dempsey. He had a chat with the challenger before the workout and then sat around to watch Dempsey perform.

"I didn't think that fellow was as big as he is," said Frank after he had seen Jack stripped and in action. "Say, he's as tough as whalebone right now and big enough to fight any man that ever lived. I am not picking a winner, mind you. I haven't seen Willard in action yet. But if he is in as good shape as Dempsey—my, it ought to be a wonderful bout."

PICTURE RECALLS TRAINING DAY

Deputy Sheriff Smith Explains Capt. Cole's Method of Teaching Recruits to March—"You're a Hell of a General," Said Tommy Smith.

"I saw an item in a New York paper that there is a moving picture being shown at the Rialto, a big movie house in New York city, called 'Hay Foot; Straw Foot,'" remarked Deputy Sheriff Gilead A. Smith, to a reporter of The Freeman, Wednesday. "I wonder if that picture play is as funny as was Captain Abe Cole's company of Joe Bunkers during general training days in the fifties?" Not having seen the picture play referred to, nor Capt. Cole's company, the reporter could not answer the query, but became inquisitive and inquired as to what the Joe Bunkers were. "Before the civil war," said Mr. Smith, who is nearly 83 years of age, sound of mind and memory and as lively as many a man twenty years his junior, "there was held general training days in Ulster county, when the ten companies of state militiamen who were uniformed were ordered out under the state law for a week of general training. Joseph S. Smith was the general in command. Citizens over twenty-one years of age were also ordered out. Sometimes they camped on Hurley avenue, sometimes on the Saugerties road, and sometimes on other fields. It was a great time for the boys as there was no end of ginger cakes and ginger pop to be had. Besides the National Greys in Kingston there were the Kingston Guards, Captain Tunis Haulenbeck, while in Roundout the headquarters for the 8th Brigade, 20th Regiment, N. Y. state militia, were the Jackson Rifle Artillery, the Harrison Guard, Washington Rifle Company, and the Independent Jefferson Dragons. Hurley had a company called the Hurley Greens, the members having green uniforms, and Marletown had a company, as did Olive, Ellenville, Saugerties and other towns. There was a song in those days that had quite a lot of verses, and the chorus went something like this:

"Some come from Hurley.
Some from the Ridge
While others come down
From the Marletown bridge.

"And they did, too," said Mr. Smith. "They came from all corners of the county, men, women and children to see the soldiers. About the Joe Bunkers, as I said the law made everybody get out and the Joe Bunkers were companies formed of men who had no uniforms but were given guns. Abe Cole, a butcher who worked for Henry Van Buren on Wall street, near Maiden Lane, was captain of such a company, that assembled at the corner of St. James and Prospect streets, near Baldwin & Co.'s Ulster county foundry, there being a hand engine fire company headquarters in the corner building. Capt. Cole's company didn't know any more about drilling than a lot of sheep. In order that they wouldn't forget which was their left foot and which was their right foot, he made them tie a twist of hay around the left leg and one of straw around the right leg. Then he would give the order when marching time came: 'Now step up and toe the wagon track. Hay foot, straw foot, belly full of bean soup, march up.' The Joe Bunkers would march away to the training grounds, keeping irregular step to the oft repeated command, 'hay foot, straw foot, etc.'

"Speaking about General Joe Smith, I remember a good story about him," said Gilead A. "Tommy Johnson was a well-to-do farmer on the Saugerties road owning the farm later called the Jim Kiersted farm and now the Hasbrouck and Watson Free farms. He had a dandy gray horse, that he called, 'Andrew,' and General Smith was granted the use of the horse by Johnson. The horse was brought to town by a man sent after the steed by General Smith and stabled in Tom Clark's barn at the Eagle Hotel. On the morning of the assembling of the militiamen and Joe Bunkers, Gen. Smith went to the stable and mounted 'Andrew.' He rode out to Main street when the horse became frisky and threw the general off. He was game, however, and with men holding the animal he got on the horse's back and had no trouble after that. Several days after general training day the general met Tommy Johnson and thanking him for the use of the horse asked how much was the charge.

"Nothing, nothing," said Tommy, who had been in town and had partaken a few social wheat whiskers at the Eagle. 'You're welcome to Andrew, any time, but you're a hell of a general.'

"What do you mean by that," said General Smith.

"I mean, that you are a hell of a general," answered Tommy, "because when Andrew raised his tail and snorted, you fell off his back. You're a hell of a general."

SEPARATE FAIR

To Be Held at Millbrook Grove By Rochester Town.

The Rochester Township Fair Association have set aside Wednesday, August 27th, as the date of their third annual fair. Last year the fair was held in conjunction with the township Sunday school picnic. This year it is to be held separately and carried out on a much larger scale.

Exhibits will consist of poultry, field crops, vegetables, fruit and exhibits of the home department such as canned goods, labor-saving equipment, fancy work, relics, etc.

Two of the added features on the program this year are a clam bake in the evening and a band concert in the afternoon and evening.

First and second prize ribbons are to be awarded as premiums. Exhibits from adjoining townships will be welcomed.

ELLENVILLE W. C. T. U.

Held Its Thirty-third Annual Meeting.

On Wednesday, June 18, the Ellenville W. C. T. U. held its 33rd annual meeting at Memorial Hall. In the absence of the president, Mrs. A. E. Smiley, who was out of town, and the first vice president, Mrs. Addison Stratton, convalescing from a serious operation, the chair was occupied by Mrs. J. R. DeVany. The officers elected for the ensuing year were: President, Mrs. E. A. Smiley; first vice president, Mrs. Addison Stratton; third vice president, Mrs. John McDowell; corresponding secretary and recording secretary, Mrs. George F. Andrews; treasurer, Mrs. Jere Krom; treasurer of building fund, Mrs. Frank Potter; pianist, Mrs. DeVany; assistant pianist, Mrs. Mary Stevens.

After the business session, members and guests adjourned to the veranda, where a social hour was enjoyed to the accompaniment of delightful refreshments. For the first time in several years the Silent Reeper passed by, but the day after our annual meeting he entered the home of one of our dearly loved members, and Mrs. John T. Evans passed to her eternal reward. Ours and her loved ones the loss—hers the gain.

OPEN SESAME TO BUSINESS OPPORTUNITY

PROPERLY executed engraved or printed matter is the OPEN SESAME to business opportunity—the charm which secures admission to the sphere of profitable trade and exit through the portals of business difficulty.

Every business establishment is judged by the character of the medium through which it introduces itself and its claims to those it would have for its patrons.

The best business in the world can be discredited by an unfavorable introduction.

The average business is not personally introduced. Printed and engraved matter—its stationery and announcements—state for its position and the reasons why it is entitled to consideration.

The prospective patron cannot afford to look further for a criterion by which to measure the value of a name upon the printed or engraved matter and of the business behind that name.

And so it has become almost universally the fact that good business establishments talk in good printing and engraving and poor ones in poor printing and engraving.

Let your printed and engraved matter stamp your business as among the best.

ISSUING LIQUOR CERTIFICATES

With only four days more before July 1, the day wartime prohibition is to become effective, the state excise department at Albany is still prepared to issue liquor tax certificates. It is understood officials are ready to issue certificates after October 1, the end of the fiscal year. If the prohibition ban is lifted until the constitutional federal amendment goes into effect, January 16.

State Excise Commissioner Sisson has said it is his opinion that enforcement of wartime prohibition, if it stands after July 1, is the duty of the federal government and not of the state. He is of the belief that should a state license expire, the state department is within its legal rights in renewing it, if the application is made.

A three-month license has already been provided for to take care of the period from October to January, in an amendment passed by the last legislature.

If President Wilson does not intervene, and the country goes dry July 1, New York state must give a three-months' rebate on all its certificates. The rebate, however, will not be made unless the certificate held by the dealer is returned to the excise department.

CAMP ANAWANA.

Boys Getting Organized for Work and Play.

The Camp Anawana boys arrived at Mr. Haviland's farm about 8 o'clock Monday morning. They came up the lane making such a noise that all the animals on the nearby farms were terror-stricken.

As there was no work for the boys on Mr. Haviland's farm, they were taken in a truck to a nearby farm, where they could earn their board. The boys that did not go were kept busy at the camp and no one had time to get homesick.

Monday night was very noisy as the wind blew in the trees and then this was the first night in camp so the fellows could not get settled. A few boys went down to the village and on the way saw a large snapping turtle, which they succeeded in capturing.

Tuesday everybody in the camp worked until 2 o'clock, then rested until 4 o'clock and then went for a swim. Tuesday evening the whole camp was divided into four teams, which will compete in berry picking and all kinds of sports. A prize will be given to the winning team each week.

The camp schedule really began Wednesday, and everyone was disturbed from their peaceful slumber by a whistle at 6 o'clock. All worked from 8 till 12 in the morning and from 1 to 5 in the afternoon. After a little rest, the fellows went for a swim and spent the evening in various ways.

Chinese Music.

Chinese music has always been beyond the grasp of the occidental mind, appearing to have neither rhyme nor reason to it. As a matter of fact, a Chinese musician must be very skilled, indeed, in his profession to hold a position in an oriental orchestra. Chinese music is not written. The words of some of the favorite songs have been preserved, but the music has been handed down from father to son for generations that go far back before the day of the troubadours. When music is played it is played according to the memory of the musician and his ideas of interpretation. A musician varies the performance as his best judgment dictates, and the strings, reeds or brass may break in at any time.

Don't wait. Repair or build your buildings now. See Addison E. Dederick's Son, No. 72 Foxhall avenue. Tel. 272.—Advertisement.

ILLEGAL RUM MAKING PORTO RICO INDUSTRY

Moonskinners Multiply So Fast Authorities Cannot Keep Lists Up to Date.

Moonskinners multiply daily in Porto Rico. Nearly 100 stills have been raided by the police.

Making contraband rum is easy and cheap, and the profit is great. All that's needed is a rude still and a supply of molasses, always plentiful. The rum hounds will pay from $2 to $3 for a small bottle of the stuff.

The risk of a fine of from $25 to $100 is no barrier to the native who would gather quick and easy money.

While the San Juan police chief was preparing a list of 35 stills that had been seized since the first of the year, reports came in of the seizure of as many more. From the arrests made in the 35 seizures there have been nine convictions and a total of $875 in fines assessed. But two jail sentences have been passed, one 30 days and one three months. There have been two acquittals and the remainder of the cases have not yet been heard.

Rum seizures recorded by the police are 273 stills, 2,100 half pints, one demijohn, 64 liters and 19 gallons. Then there are 61 half pints of wine, 22 bot-ties of anise, 50 gallons of alcohol and 84 bottles of beer. Altogether the police have quite a little of liquor, but there isn't any use for it.

Capt. W. J. Kennedy may collect $250,000 from the wreck of the schooner Madeline Shirley Lord. The crew abandoned the schooner off Ponce with a cargo of a half million dollars' worth of Martinique rum bound for France. Kennedy smelled it out and put his crew aboard. He saved the rum from the fishes and is entitled to half the salvage. It's under the lock and key of the collector of customs at Ponce and can't be sold here, but is likely to be trans-shipped to some port where Kennedy can collect.

Long Fall, Unhurt.

Samuel J. Watkins, forty-four years of age, of Chicago, a steepjack, while painting a smokestack recently at the municipal light plant at Lawrenceburg, Ind., fell a distance of 50 feet to a cement sidewalk when a rope broke. He was uninjured and saved his bucket of black paint. Watkins readjusted the rope and completed the work.

Two Eggs Joined.

Harvey Smith, a chicken fancier, residing at Good Stilling, Pa., has placed on exhibition at Waynesboro, Pa., a freak egg—or twin eggs. The eggs are joined one to another with a thin tissue. Both shells of the eggs are soft.

URNS U. S. ARMY! INTO UNIVERSITY

Government Gives Every Soldier Chance to Get Education.

WILL TEACH TRADES ALSO

Possibilities of the Plan Demonstrated
In the Wonderful Work During Past Few Months by Educational Commission in American Expeditionary
Force in France—Men and Officers
Eagerly Grasp Chance to Study.

A great new educational force in the shape of the American regular army will come into being in the United States in the near future if the present plans of government officials, army officers and prominent civilian educators are realized.

Briefly it is proposed to make Uncle Sam's standing army a huge university in which the young men of the country will receive not only physical and military training but will be given opportunities to acquire academic and vocational learning which might be beyond their reach in civil life.

The old days of virtual wastage of time which represented almost blank pages in the life of the soldier will be a thing of the past. Instead of being turned back into civil life in a more helpless state than when he entered the army he will be equipped to wage a vigorous fight for his place in the sun of the business or professional world.

400,000 Soldiers in Classes.

The possibilities of this plan have been demonstrated in the wonderful work done during the past few months by the educational commission in the American expeditionary force in France. Since the signing of the armistice something like 450,000 American soldiers have been appreciably benefited by the army schools, which have been put within the reach of every man and which have provided facilities to study almost every conceivable subject from farming to philosophy.

Few of the army educators in France realized at the outset how great a work they were starting. The avidity with which the enlisted man and his officer have seized upon the proffered opportunities has astounded them.

With this object lesson before it the army has been inspired to carry on this work at home in the standing forces. The project assumes, it is understood, that the standing army of the future will be a comparatively large one, and that there may be a short period of compulsory training for the youths of the country, although the scheme is not dependent upon the compulsory feature.

Under the new system all subjects could be taught, from A, B, C's for the illiterate up through perhaps the first year of university work. Vocational training would naturally form a most important phase of the program. Boys who had had no opportunity for schooling before entering the army could be started on their way and would be permitted to re-enlist at the expiration of their service in order to carry on their studies. Others, who perhaps had finished high school, could be given a chance to begin their college course so that there would be no waste of time in case they were planning to go into professions or business.

There would be military training, of course, and the soldiers would be made as nearly physically perfect as possible. A large part of their time, however, would be devoted, if they so desired, to improving their minds. Thus, the army believes, any boy, no matter what his standing in society, would be materially benefited by his period of service with the colors.

Help to Get Good Positions.

Probably the man who would profit most would be the one who had acquired either no education or had been forced to leave school at an early age; for example, a New York East side boy who has left school to help support the family and has no equipment to enable him to secure lucrative work and so drifts about in unskilled labor. If he enters the army, he is to be put to work in the school, housed and fed, and paid a regular wage which he can send home to his people. At the end of the year it is expected that he will be so efficient enough in his trade so that he can get a job with good prospects. The gate to the broad highway will be opened to him.

It is believed by educators that many poor youths will devote not only one year to the army, but will remain for several years, in order to acquire at least some higher education.

This, in brief, is the plan which is being worked on in Paris now by prominent men who have every hope that it will be carried out.

Masked Men Return Watches.

Port Center, a Concord, Ohio, farmer, living near Little Mountain, reported to the police that three masked men held him up in his home one afternoon and ransacked the house, taking about $50 and two watches. Both watches were returned to him. Center says he thinks the men were after Liberty Bonds.

Key a Prolific Writer.

Francis Scott Key, the author of "The Star-Spangled Banner," wrote quite a number of poems, which were collected and published in book form in 1857. He was the author of several sacred hymns, including the national Thanksgiving hymn, beginning "Praise the Lord we bow." This was written for the Fourth of July, 1832. He also wrote the hymn beginning, "Lord, with glowing heart I praise thee," and "When troubles come on me, assured," and others. He died in 1843, while United States district attorney at Washington.

Owl's Digestive Apparatus.

Owls have a peculiar method of eating. They eat everything they want, whenever they find it, and swallow the whole morsel—whole. The idea would be the same if you sat down to dinner and consumed the beefsteak, potatoes, apples, tablecloth, knives, forks and spoons. After the owl has had this condemnation in his department of the interior for some time, and it has been digested for all the nutrition there is in it, he occasionally disgorges it to drop the refuse out through his mouth in the form of a hard, round pellet—often the size of a hard-boiled egg.

Banks and Banking.

The national banking law was passed in the United States February 25, 1863. The first bank authorized to do business was the First National bank of Philadelphia, but the oldest one was the Bank of North America, which was chartered by the state of Pennsylvania in 1782, and became a national bank December 3, 1863. In view of its long history and pioneer services to the government, it was permitted to organize as a national bank under its old name of "Bank of North America," without the usual prefix of "national."

Arctic Nights.

Viewed solely as a matter of optics, the arctic night is as dark as any night. Explorers in high latitudes say, however, that there are many alterations of the obscurity. The stars flash keenly, the moon comes along in a regular succession of phases, the snow surface reflects the gloom under conditions of the utmost absence of light, and the aurora borealis is the final light of the season. Explorers all agree that their eyes pass the winter nights without much difficulty if only there are means of amusement.

"THE CARTER CASE"

Government Urges Early Buying of Winter Coal

U. S. Geological Survey Reports Probability of Another Fuel Shortage Next Fall and Winter—Production For First Five Months of This Year Twenty-Five Per Cent Below That of Same Period Last Year—Labor and Transportation Problems May Further Reduce the Bituminous Output.

The United States Geological Survey announces from Washington the probability of another general coal shortage next fall and winter. The announcement is based on the survey's study of the bituminous field conditions in the bituminous field. Unless steps are taken at once, the survey says, to place the mines upon a basis of increased production there is every prospect of a repetition to some degree of the situation that prevailed in the United States during the winter of 1917-18.

The only way production can be stimulated at the present time, it is said, is by placing orders with the mines for coal which will be needed later on. "Production during the first five months of the year," reads the statement, "fell 27,292,000 net tons, or approximately 25% below production during the first five months of 1918. Mines are producing coal now at the rate of from 8,000,000 to 8,500,000 tons a week. An average output of 9,700,000 tons a week must be maintained from June 1 to January 1 next if the country's estimated needs of 500,000,000 tons this year are to be met."

Evil of Delayed Orders

At this time during this year has the coal situation approached the critical stage. The tendency on the part of consumers to hold off placing their orders for coal at the mines is a serious menace to the coal supply.

point of production, and when the rush of orders for the winter's needs comes next fall there is grave danger that the mines, with depleted labor forces and the probability of less adequate transportation, will be unable to meet the demands. The result of such a situation would be an insufficient supply for the requirements of domestic consumers, public utilities and industrial users generally.

"It is believed that requirements for this year," reads a Survey statement to Fuel Administrator Caldwell, "will be about 530,000,000 tons of bituminous coal, of which approximately 30,000,000 tons have been used from stocks accumulated last year, leaving 500,000,000 tons to be produced. Of this 500,000,000 tons 178,000,000 tons were produced during the first five months, leaving 322,000,000 tons to be produced in the remaining 39 weeks, or an average of 10,700,000 tons a week."

"Thus far this year production has been at the rate of 8,200,000 tons a week. In 1918 production was at the rate of 11,300,000 tons a week. "This production will be difficult of accomplishment. The capacity of operating mines at the present time with labor now on the payroll is about 10% lower than it was last year. This deficiency may be made up in part or wholly if the mines have orders sufficient to run them five or six days a week unless the threatened exodus of foreign-born labor occurs.

Peace Means Wage Dispute.

"Present wage agreements expire between operators and miners with the proclamation of peace by the President. A suspension of mining operations while a new wage agreement is being negotiated would, of course, seriously interfere with the production of coal and if it should occur during the fall would cause a panic among buyers and consumers of coal."

There is no use in gambling upon this or any other contingency, fuel administration officials say. The firm or individual who wants to be sure of an adequate coal supply next winter can be certain by buying coal now. There is no other way such assurance can be obtained. Transportation is being a limiting factor if the flood tide of demand comes at a time when the country's record crops are being carried. In some districts it would appear certain that, notwithstanding the utmost endeavors of the Railroad Administration and the utilization of its experience last fall, car shortage will be a cause limiting bituminous coal production, and for that reason it is problematical whether the expected production of 500,000,000 tons can be attained this year.

Shortage of labor already is a factor that is cutting down the output in some coal producing sections, according to the Survey's report. The operators report that 36,000 to 40,000 foreign-born miners expect to return to Europe as soon as they can get passports and that many have already returned. If continued this movement will be capable of producing but one result—a reduction of the amount of coal mined in districts where the mine labor is largely foreign-born, and there are many such districts.

He who needs coal should hesitate no longer. Now is the time to order coal.

Successful.

A young Welshman applied to the head of a big firm in London for a job. "Where do you come from?" he was asked. "From Llunpumpaint." "What may that name mean?" "It means the place of the five saints." "Are there five saints there still?" "There are only four since I left," said the young Welshman. As the head of the firm came from the same neighborhood the young man got the situation.

Knew When to Behave.

Donald was usually mischievous and needed speaking to frequently. So his mother always cautioned him before company arrived to be on his good behavior. One evening one of the guests, observing the small boy was quiet, asked him if he was always so good. "Oh, no," replied Donald frankly; "but I'll catch it if I don't behave while company's here."

Electrical Currents.

Different methods are in use for keeping the supply of electricity steady in spite of the varying demands made on it. In some systems of distribution, instead of the two main conductors being one positive and the other negative, each is positive and negative alternately, the reversals taking place some hundreds of times a second. The current is then said to be alternating. When such reversals do not take place, the currents are said to be direct.

His Explanation

Vincent was afraid of chickens, and one day as he was going to the neighbor's he hesitated before a path where a few chickens were picking away at the binders. After standing there a few moments waiting for them to get away he returned, saying: "There was a woster on the sidewalk and he was afraid of me, so I comd back."

Nicaraguan Burial Custom.

Among the Indians of eastern Nicaragua when a person dies the body is buried at once and a little house is built over the grave in which the soul can live for the time being. A field of sweet manioc is planted. In about eight months' time the roots are ready for use, so a general invitation to a great Sau or Sixco dance is sent out. A cotton string is stretched over the grave to the dancing place, where the end of it hangs down into a great bowl of mishla.

BELA KUN IS STILL IN POWER

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Copenhagen June 27.—Bela Kun, premier of the Hungarian Soviet government, has issued a proclamation declaring that the bourgeois revolution in Budapest must be suppressed ruthlessly.
The Wiener Abendblatt reports that fighting continued in the streets of Budapest throughout Wednesday night and that hundreds of persons were killed. Some units of organized labor have joined the revolt.
